Mr. F. C. Perry, the cigar manufacturer of this city, a lifelong Democrat, sold to Colonel Les Harbaugh of Fortor, O., a big bill of cigars to be paid for when McKinley carries Kentucky. If he fails to do so the cigars do not cost Harbaugh a cent. The brand of cigars sold is the same that has been carried by the firm for years, and it was a straight deal, no wagger or anything of that character being made.

The profits of the luncheon given by the ladies of the M. E. Church on Tuesday were $26. An incident of the occasion was the circumstance of twenty young men from Brookville composing a brass band and also members of a young people's religious society entering in a body and filling an entire table, their leader saying grace. They were offered one of the Sunday-school rooms for their headquarters. Delightful music was repeatedly discoursed during the day.

ANOTHER CITIZEN CALLED.

Death of Hon. James Barbour at Clifton Springs, N. Y.

Telegrams were received this morning from Clifton Springs, N. Y., announcing the death at that place last evening of the Hon. James Barbour of this city.

Mr. Barbour had been in failing health for some months, and on the 1st of September had gone to Clifton Springs in hopes of finding relief.

His death has removed one of the most active, intelligent and useful men who ever gave his time and talents for the good of the community to which he made his home.

He was born in Danville December 26th, 1830, and in 1880-81 he served as Auditor of the State of Kentucky by appointment of Governor Helm.

During his official term his superior financial abilities attracted attention of the officers of the Bank of Kentucky, and they voluntarily promised him the first vacant Cashiership that occurred in their chain of Branch Banks.

The first vacancy was in this city, and in August 1892 he came here and assumed his duties as Cashier of the Branch Bank of Kentucky, remaining in that position until the Branch was withdrawn in 1891.

He then organized the Bank of Mayville, with the late A. M. January President, and on the death of Mr. January he became the head of that institution.

In all, he had been for nearly 45 years engaged in banking in this city, and he was probably the oldest banker in the state.

Brief and imperfect as this sketch must necessarily be, it would be inexcusable to omit mention of two great enterprises, the success of which is almost wholly due to his efforts—the Mayville and Lexington Railroad and the Mayville Water Works.

He was the chief instrument in reviving the former enterprise and prosecuting it to completion; and had his advice been followed the people of our city and county would today have owned and controlled the road.

Surviving him are two sons—Mr. J. Foster Barbour, Cashier of the Bank of Mayville, and the Rev. John Barbour of Birmingham, Ala.

Mr. Barbour had been a life long and zealous member of the Presbyterian Church, and had been an Oddfellow for more than half a century, and the funeral will take place under the auspices of that Order at the First Presbyterian Church at 4 o'clock Sunday morning, with services by the Rev. John S. Hays, D.D.

Monday morning the remains will be taken to Danville and laid to rest beside those of his beloved wife, who preceded him on the 30th of July last.

W. H. Woods, Judge of the Lawrence County Court, was robbed by a pick-pocket at the Bryan meeting at Lexington. He lost about $700.

Colonel W. LaRue Thomas of this city will be the Delegate from the Ninth District to the meeting of the National Association of Democratic Clubs, which will be held at St. Louis October 8d.

FOUND DEAD.

Jo. Luthman Died in the Fifth Ward Last Night.

Jo. Luthman, residing in the Fifth Ward, was found dead in bed this morning.

He was an employee of the Mayville Cotton Mills, and had worked up to quitting time yesterday.

Going home he ate supper and last night retired in usual health.

Deceased was about 50 years of age, and leaves a wife and four children—two daughters and two sons.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

Washington Presbyterian Church Has Passed the Century Mark.

The Presbytery of Ebenezer, at its last meeting in Caltensburg, selected Washington as the next place of meeting and when they did that they selected wisely.

Yesterday 100 years ago the First Presbyterian Church was organized there, and now, after 100 years of work, after having the Church pass through the hands of three generations, after worshiping in several houses, the organization at that place, under the leadership of Rev. W. T. Spears and several good, consecrated men and women, finds itself in a most prosperous condition, and bids fair to be able to celebrate several of the 100 marks of time.

One very hard could be seen evidence of the consecration of the people of Washington to God's service.

At the morning session of the Presbytery the history of the Church, from its very inception up to the present time, was read, which was an elaborate paper and showed how well the historian had done his part toward making the celebration a success.

After the reading of the history of the Church, which occupied about an hour, Rev. F. P. Ramsey then spoke for an hour and twenty minutes on "Calvinism in History," which was a grand treat in itself. He began with what Calvinism was and a few of the doctrines it represented and then proceeded to show what it had accomplished toward making the history of the world complete. It was a masterly address and was well received by the large congregation.

Rev. Mr. Renick, the Moderator, then announced that the dinner hour had arrived (1:30) and that he was informed that there was a brother in the audience who had something to say, whereupon Rev. Spears gave the invitation to dinner. It was spread out upon the lawn in front of the Church, and the hard times have never struck Washington, as it would have been impossible for such a dinner to have been spread had the prevailing times in this city been the fashion at Washington. It seemed as though every one in that historic town had tried to outdo each other in preparing something for the dinner, and by the time all were through donating and cooking there was enough to feed an army. The tables were piled high with everything that is good to eat, there being enough left to enable the ladies of the Church to set supper, and then they had enough left to give a large banquet to every poor family in Washington.

Dinner being over, preaching was resumed, Rev. Henry M. Scudder, D.D., delivering a grand sermon on "Presbyterianism," followed by Judge Quincy Ward of Paris and several other good speakers, and last night at 7 o'clock Rev. Rogers of Caltensburg delivered the closing sermon to a packed house.

Among some of those present from this city were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Blatterman, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Darnall, Rev. man, Mr. W. O. Cochran and daughter Frances, Misses Lucy and Fannie Lee, Mr. and Mrs. E. Stanley Lee, Misses Annabel and Lettie Rozer, Misses Lettie and Mary Wood, Mr. Robert Baldwin, Mrs. Robert Owens, Mr. Ben Foynt, Miss Green, Miss Johnson and Miss Pickett.

OVER IN OHIO.

THE CAMPAIGN PROGRESSING IN OLD ADAMS COUNTY.

Manchester Signal.

The meeting on Island Creek last Saturday night surpassed the expectations of the most sanguine as to numbers, enthusiasm and everything that goes to make a successful political meeting.

The large tobacco barn belonging to the Kirkpatrick Brothers, about half a mile above the bridge, had been prepared for the meeting. Seats had been arranged and the barn decorated with flags, bunting and pictures, so that it presented a very pretty appearance.

The ladies of the neighborhood had taken the trouble to have an organ upon a stand erected for that purpose and arranged a short program of music with which to intersperse the meeting, and to those acquainted with the ladies of Island Creek it is unnecessary to say that their part of the meeting was a grand success.

The Manchester McKinley and Robert Drum Corps was there and added materially to the success of the meeting with its fine martial music. This Corps is composed of some of the most enthusiastic Republicans to be found anywhere, and they are ever ready to render their services to the glorious cause of Sound Money, Protection and Prosperity, and deserve the highest meed of praise from the Republicans of the county for the excellent work they are doing in this campaign.

The first speaker upon the platform was Mr. Prescott Darnell, a young school-teacher and law student of this place, and though this was the first time he ever appeared upon the rostrum, he made a speech which was full of eloquence, patriotism, sound sense and good argument.

Mr. Darnell persists with as much energy in the future as he has in the past, he will hew out a name for himself that will be truly enviable.

The next speaker was W. S. Foster of this place, and he is so well known throughout the county that it is unnecessary for us to say that his speech was a good one. Though having made no previous preparation, he handled the twin destroyers of prosperity, Free-trade and Free-silver, without gloves. Mr. Foster is doing herculean work in this campaign and is doing his full share in educating the people upon the issues now before them.

But the big speech of the evening was made by Hon. Thomas A. Davis of Mayville. Mr. Davis has been in the newspaper business at Mayville for the past thirty years, and is at present Editor of THE DAILY PUBLIC LEDGER of that place. He is one of the best informed men on the economic questions now agitating the American people in this part of the country and expresses himself in a clear, bold, fearless and patriotic manner. His speech yesterday night was a gem, and we are very sorry we have not room to say more about it.

Hon. John W. Hook made a few remarks, congratulating the Republicans of Monroe Township upon the grand success of the meeting and the enthusiasm manifested by the surprisingly large number who were present.

The Republicans of Monroe are thoroughly aroused and are up and doing in earnest and a good report may be expected from them on the 3d of November.

Mr. Jacob Rehnke, who is in the employ of the Chicago Lumber Co. at Des Moines, Iowa, says: "I have just sent some medicine back to my mother in the old country, that I know from personal use to be the best medicine in the world for rheumatism, having used it in my family for several years. It is called Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It always does the work." 50 cent bottles for sale by J. James Wood, Druggist.

Our Watch Hospital

is always open. A watch must keep time as a train must keep the track. If your watch don't keep time bring it here and we will make it right to smallest part of a second. When a watch leaves our hospital to renew its duel with Time its seconds must be reliable, and we make them so in every case. When a watch runs even with time it's ahead. Ours are;—so are our Clocks and entire stock of Jewelry, Silverware, &c.,—ahead of competition.

TIDINGS FROM TEXAS.

What the Husband of a Mayville Girl Says About Politics.

Mr. John L. Pike, who is Agent of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway at Temple, Texas, is a prominent politician in his section, and was a Delegate to the late State Republican Convention held at Fort Worth, and was a member of the Committee that framed the platform.

In a letter to THE LEDGER he says: TEMPLE, TEXAS, Sep. 14th, 1896.

Thomas A. Davis, Esq., Mayville, Ky.—Dear Sir: I never wrote to hard in my life at a Convention, and since it is now a matter of history I feel gratified with the results accomplished. State politics in the Republican ranks have been much divided on account of the abuse heaped upon the party and the insinuation thrown out by our Democratic friends that the Republicans of Texas were following a Negro boss. In 1883, when I first became acquainted politically with Cussey, I made a resolve that I would work always against him, and when I met him a few days ago, in answer to his query, "Are you still against me?" I remarked that I was and that the Convention at Fort Worth would eventually depose him from the leadership.

I am to some extent sorry that we faced with the Pope on the state ticket, but I hope and pray that Texas will be found in the Republican column for the National ticket in November.

Mr. Pike is the son-in-law of Mr. W. A. Stockdale of this city, and is prominent in all public enterprises in his part of the "Lone Star State."

The ladies of the Christian Church are requested to meet with Mrs. A. H. Thompson, East Third street, this afternoon at 3:30, the object being to distribute the self denial boxes.

PROFITABLE PUBLICITY.
WHAT ADVERTISING WILL NOT DO FOR ADVERTISERS.

By NATHAN C. FOWLER, JR., Doctor of Publicity.

Copyright, 1896, by NATHAN C. Fowler, Jr., Tribune Building, New York.

Advertising will not sell goods. Advertising will not make business. Advertising will not consummate sale. Advertising simply makes it easier for business to be done, and easier for the salesman to sell.

The unsuccessful advertiser complains because his advertising did not bring direct return.

Assuming that the advertising was well constructed, it was not the advertising's fault.

In the combination of good advertising, good goods, good salesman, good location, and good management, is profitable business.

Leave out management and the other four conditions are worthless.

Leave out salesman, and what you have left cannot make profit.

Leave out goods, and you sell nothing because you have nothing to sell.

Leave out good location, and it will be hard to do good business.

Leave out advertising, and good as the other conditions of your business may be, there cannot be business return.

In the harmony of the parts is the strength of the whole.

Advertising is simply the yeast in the bread of business.

It will raise nothing if there is nothing for it to raise.

Place upon advertising the responsibility of advertising, and no more.

A dark gloomy story and bright advertising are as unprofitable as a cheerful story and dull advertising.

The most careful advertising and the most different cautions, allow the good of the one to be spoiled by the faults of the other.

When any part of the body isn't doing the work that nature intended it to do, it puts the whole system out of tune—out of harmony. Sickens in one part of the body is likely to run into all parts of the body. When children stand a row of bricks on end, they knock the whole row down by upsetting one brick. That is exactly what happens to the health when the bowels fail to perform their proper function. Constipation makes trouble all along the line—puts the liver out of order, is bad for the kidneys—bad for the stomach. It holds in the body poisonous matter, and because it cannot go any place else, it gets into the blood. The blood carries it all over the system. That makes sluggishness, listlessness, bad breath and foul taste in the mouth, fits the stomach with gas and causes windy belching, sour digestion in the stomach, causes sour stomach, heartburn and headache. You can avoid all such trouble, for Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation and its attendant evils. Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to Dr. B. W. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his "Medical Advertiser." It is a book of 100 pages, profusely illustrated.
